Planned Power Outage at our District Office on 8/1/09

7/29/09

Previous_Announcements

On Saturday August 1, our district office will have a planned power outage that will affect all internet connectivity (and other services) district wide.

Power is scheduled to be out at the district office from 6:00am until 6:00pm. During this time, the entire district will be without internet access or phone service (including voice mail.)

Internet based services, such as WebCT, email, the MyMCC portal, my.maricopa.edu, and the MCC website will not be accessible during this time. These services will not be accessible from either on or off campus.

Phone service @MCC will be limited during this time as well. Voice mail will not be available at all. 5 digit dialing will work for on-campus numbers only. We WILL be able to make and receive phone calls from/to external phone numbers.

For more information directly from the district office, please Click Here.

TSS is all a-Twitter!

06/11/08

MCC's Technology Support Services is now using Twitter as a method of communication.

What is Twitter?

Twitter is a service that allows people to make short (140 character) announcements. Interested parties can "follow" individuals and receive these updates on the web, over instant messaging, or via text messaging on their cell phones.

We intend to use this service to make announcements about system outages, closures, and interesting technology related news.

So, follow us at <http://twitter.com/mcctss!>
